FRONT PAGE EDITORIAL REMEMBERANCE WEEK — NOVEMBER 4TH - 11TH.

A few weeks ago we celebrated Thanksgiving Day, A special day set aside for us to meditate upon, and count our many blessings; as we in the Legion contemplate our blessings, however, our thoughts will tend to deviate a little and we will find ourselves considering the plight of many of our less fortunate comrades, the ones with the invisible disability, the men who bear no outward scars, who, apparently came through unimpaired and are not pensionable but require sympathetic council and financial assistance.

These are the comrades that the late Field Marshal, Earl Haig had in mind when he adopted the idea of utilizing the poppy for distribution as an "Emblem of Remembrance" and as a means of raising funds to alleviate the suffering of our war veterans in need. The idea quickly acted upon and over the years the Flanders Poppy replica has achieved it's first and greatest purpose, Remembrance of those hundreds of thousands who sacrificed their lives on the altar of freedom. It has also been the means of fulfilling two other most worthy purposes.

The manufacture of the Poppy replicas has been concentrated in the hands of men who were broken by the conflict and are unemployable in the exacting conditions of ordinary commerce. In the manufacture of these little flowers they find a sacred and congenial task.

No less significant is the third objective: the distribution of these symbolic emblems each year as a means of obtaining funds in local centres which serve the splendid purpose of bringing relief to the distressed and disabled among those who fought for Canada's freedom and their dependents. "Thus the Flanders Poppy brings aid for the living from the Dead".

To honour and protect in death, seems but small return to him who has protected the nation's honour in life. Lest we forget!

CHARLES BRANDON ENTERTAINS COUNTY OFFICIALS AT WARDEN'S BANQUET

Every year the Warden of the County entertains the County Council, County Employees and dignitaries at a banquet.

This year Warden Charles Brandon of Minden held a banquet at the Wagon Wheel Motel, on Saturday, October 25th. Some 70 people attended this gala event, gathering together to talk over county affairs, old times, and renew acquaintances with friends from all parts of the County.

A social hour was held from 6 to 7 p.m., followed by a delicious meal and speeches from such district officials as Warden of Victoria County D. Hutchison, Warden of Peterborough County, Mr. Bob Young, Mr. Ted Simms, County Road Engineer, Mr. Lawrence Pritchard of Minden, Mr. Ronald Curry of Haliburton, both past Wardens, Mr. Glen Hodgson MPP and Mr. William Scott MP.

Mr. Brandon had his mother, brother and his wife, as special guests from Cannington.

Councillor Reg Booth of Minden introduced the guests and had one from each table introduce those at that table.

In Mr. Pritchard's remarks, he stated, "I would like to see this Vankoughnet Road called the Peterson Road, for I was in Vankoughnet recently and a fellow couldn't buy a free lunch for a grasshopper." Meaning the size of Vankoughnet didn't warrant calling this road after. Mr. Pritchard went on to give some history on the telephone system in Haliburton County.

Glen Hodgson gave the people of Haliburton County credit for selling the system to Bell Canada and talking them into "not spending 2 million but 5 million on the system."

It was William Scott's advice in his address, that industry brings pollution and that it might be better to stick with tourism, which is a sure bet. He also emphasized that the people here shouldn't broadcast pollution, but work on it quietly.

The guest speaker was David B. Sutherland, President of Sir Sandford Fleming College. His topic was some of the reflections on the role of education in the Modern World.

After dinner, the gathering adjourned for an evening of dancing, and a social evening.

JUNIOR "D" TEAM TO WORKOUT ON SUNDAY

An open invitation is given to anyone interested in playing Junior "D" Hockey in Haliburton.

The opening workout will be held in Haliburton, Sunday Evening at 7 p.m.

HERE AND THERE with Fenwick Finch

That was a short week — the older you get the faster the time seems to go.

A coupla weeks ago we was living real "high on the hog" courtesy of Earl Monahan of Rochester N.Y.

Now, I know you ain't interested in what we was doin' and what we was seeing but I like to tell you a little more about Earl. As most of you know Monahan is just about the best "Booster" we have for the Highlands of Haliburton — every chance he gets, either verbally or in the articles he writes he plugs our community. He does the same thing for Rochester when you are with him. We local people boost our community, but we run hot and cold, and sometimes slack off, but not Earl, he's in there "beating the drum" steady for us.

In my past business and personal life I have met a great many "public relations and press agent johnnies." In the majority of cases they have been smooth talking, back-slapping, hand-shakin' characters, they are nice to you but you know there is only one reason — YOU, got something they want.

Earl is employed by Howard's Express, Inc. of Rochester and he acts in the capacity of a P.R. man. He's quiet spoken, self-effacing and just about everything you'd NOT expect in his trade — he's got something going for him that very few of his ilk have — he's sincerity itself, when Earl tells you something, you know it's right for here is a man who can't be anything but honest.

I know Howard's Express think highly of Earl and well they should, he reflects the integrity of the Company he works with.

So much for that — I don't want to embarrass Earl any further — as it is he'll probably have my hide for telling you this much. Sufficient to say, Earl is a man you'd be proud to call "friend".

* * * *

Speaking of friends, I just lost one I highly respected. A little over a month ago Harry Strickland of Bobcaygeon died in his 99th year. We had quite a few visits over the past two years when Harry was planning his 100th Birthday — he was sure he'd make it and knowing his determination I was sure he'd do it. Had he lived until April the 25th, 1970 he'd a done it. Mr. Strickland formed the Electrical Inspection Department of the Ontario Hydro and drew up the first set of electrical standards.

* * * *

I been havin' a little better luck with my coffee lately. I groan about paying 15c for grog but two places I found are the best — Austin's Esso Station and Vasey Insurance Co. Coffee there was courtesy of Bill Austin and Vern Gartshore — that's the best kind of coffee — it didn't cost me nuthin'.

* * * *

Speaking of coffee — I've taken up bowling, for the first time in 17 years — I'm a lousy bowler but at least I'm consistant. To get back to the coffee, it's good tasting but I ended up wearing two cups — a new way of taking it. One of my team mates loaded me down the back and, later on I gave myself a lap-full. I ain't gonna mention no names on account of he's bigger than I am. However, as I said the coffee was good, what I got to drink of it.

* * * *

So, that's it for another week, until we're around again — think on this "Anyone who still insists that all men are created equal never took a shower in the army with about fifty other guys."

Fenwick.

IT'S HALLOWEEN

Friday evening is the big night for most of the small children. The blaze of devilment from older youngsters, seem to disappear more each year. I wonder why? Rev. Howard Best gave me the idea to do some research on how it all began.

It goes back to medieval times and has always been held on October 31st., the eve of All Saints' Day, which was the Celtic Festival for celebrating the end of summer. This date also represented the new year in both Celtic and Anglo-Saxon times, and was always one of the ancient fire festivals.

Where does all the ghosts and goblins come from? you might ask. Back in those days this celebration was connected with the return of herds from pasture, and its importance is indicated by the renewal of laws and land tenures the rekindling of fire for the coming year, the practice of divinations and its associations with the dead, whose souls were supposed to revisit their homes on this day. Since November ushers in the darkest and most barren half of the year, the autumnal festival acquired sinister significance, with ghosts, witches, hobgoblins, fairies and demons of all kinds roaming abroad.

All these thoughts were coupled with fire rites, divinations, funerary practices and masquerades, partly serious and partly frivolous in their later development as Halloween passed into the realm of folk observances. In addition, Halloween was thought to be the most favourable opportunity for divinations concerning marriages, luck, health and death, differing in manner in the various parts of Britain. It was the only day on which the devil was invoked for such purposes.

Immigrants to the United States, particularly the Irish, introduced secular Halloween customs that became popular in the late 19th century. Mischief making on this occasion by boys and young men took such forms as overturning sheds and outhouses and breaking windows, and damage to property was sometimes severe. I have to admit, when I was somewhat younger, we created hell throughout the town. But today the occasion has come to be observed mainly by small children, who go from house to house demanding "Trick or Treat" the treat is generally forthcoming and the trick rarely played. The common symbol of Halloween the Jack-O-Lantern (the name is probably derived from that of a night watchman), is a hollowed-out pumpkin carved in the appearance of a demonic face and with a lighted candle inside. In Scotland a turnip was used, but even there the pumpkin has won out.

Like most celebrations, there are many explanations for their beginning, some politics, some traditional, most have been made up to suit our time. Of course only for the commercial enterprises, many traditions, and I believe Halloween would be one, would have been lost hundreds of years ago.

SELF-INFLICTED

HUNTING INJURIES

by Ernest Taylor,
Ontario Safety League

Self-inflicted injuries are high on the list of hunting accidents in Ontario. Loading and unloading firearms, improper crossing of fences and other obstacles, and trigger catching on branches or other objects are some of the causes. However, by far and away the chief cause is stumbling and falling while carrying a loaded weapon.

The Ontario Safety League claims there are a number of reasons for these falls which end in tragedy. High on the list is just plain carelessness; running while carrying a loaded gun and not sufficient attention to condition underfoot. A close second is poor physical condition. This can be the result of poor health, lack of good muscle tone, impaired ability or a hangover, or just plain fatigue. Fatigue is certainly a cause to be reckoned with as evidenced by the sharp rise in the number of accidents just before noon hour and late afternoon.

The Ontario Safety League reminds hunters that there is a second line of defense against these hazards, keep that safety "on" at all times until you are actually ready to pull the trigger.

HALLOWEEN TREAT CANDIED APPLES

It's trick or treat season again. So, be ready this year with a special treat for your ghosts and goblins. These candied apples, from the Food Department, University of Guelph will be a delicious hit at any Halloween party.

CINNAMON APPLIES

8 medium apples
2 cups granulated sugar
2/3 cup light corn syrup
1 cup water
dash of salt
5 drops of cinnamon oil or 2/3
tbsp crushed cinnamon candy
red food coloring
wooden skewers

Wash and dry the apples; remove the stem. Stick the skewer into the stem end of each apple.

Butter the sides of a heavy saucepan. In saucepan, combine sugar, corn syrup, water, salt and food coloring. Cook, stirring constantly, until sugar reaches hard crack-300 degree F-stage. Remove from heat; stir in cinnamon oil or well crushed candy.

Twirl each apple in syrup to coat; tilt pan so syrup is deep enough to cover the apples. Let excess drip off. Set apples on buttered cookie sheet or wax paper. Let cool until firm.

QUICK TRICKS

Food experts from University of Guelph, offer these quick home-making tricks. Keep them with your favorite recipes for handy reference.

To make Chocolate Curls: Let a square of semi-sweet chocolate stand to soften slightly. With a sharp vegetable peeler, cut off thin shavings from the back of the chocolate square.

To melt Chocolate: Set the chocolate in a small cup or custard dish in a double boiler. Melt over hot, not boiling water. If steam gets into the chocolate it is difficult to handle.

To make Caramel: Put 1 cup of white sugar in a heavy saucepan; stir over high heat until it becomes a clear liquid. Reduce the heat, push the larger lumps to the center until the syrup becomes a red-brown color. Immediately, without stirring, add 1 cup boiling water. Be careful of steam. Simmer until syrupy. Bottle for later use.

To keep Brown Sugar Soft: Store in an airtight glass or plastic container in the refrigerator.

To Soften Brown Sugar: Place a bread slice or apple, on a piece of waxed paper, in the container on top of the sugar.

HALLOWEEN FOR UNICEF

Have you ever stopped to think how much money is wasted each day on non-essentials compared to the money spent to help people? Now essentials such as chocolate bars, pop, warfare, comic books, ad-infinity.

The United Nations Children's Fund devotes all its time, energy, and resources to helping the world's unfortunates wherever they may be. UNICEF carries on its work with remarkably small amounts of money. Small in comparison to amounts spent in ways that do not better the living standards of the less fortunate people of the world.

You will be pleased to learn UNICEF will not waste one penny of the money you put in the orange and black coin box this Halloween. Instead it plans to help needy children to live. Do you not think this a worthwhile way to spend your money?

DOLLARS AND GOOD SENSE

by William J. Martin

Dear Mr. Martin:

We plan to redecorate our home, especially the living room and we need some advice on shopping for home furnishings. What's the best thing to look for when buying furniture?

Mrs. K. W.

The label. It will tell you more than anything else about the piece of furniture you're buying, like whether it's "mahogany" or just plain "mahogany finish". If it's the latter, you shouldn't be paying for the real thing because this means that the chair, or table or what ever it is you are buying, is made from a cheaper grade of wood that has been stained to look like mahogany. This is okay if that's what you want. But remember, you shouldn't be paying the "mahogany" price. So, always study the label very carefully. And don't be reluctant about asking the salesman what certain terms mean on the label, either.

This information, incidentally, comes from a book entitled "When, Where and How to Save on Furniture," which I'm sending you. Since I'm not a furniture-buying expert, I had to refer to it to answer your question. You'll find a lot of other useful information in it, too, like what to look for when shopping for wood and upholstered furniture. Did you know, for example, that veneer, used in most furniture, is a plywood sandwich of wood layers over a solid frame with the outside layer only the expensive wood named. It's strong, however and greatly resists warping, swelling and reduces the cost of enjoying beautiful wood surfaces.

Also, did you know that the important factor in the cost and durability of upholstered furniture is the number of threads per inch of the material. The more threads the better the weave. Loose weaves sag and stretch quickly.

So, for smart furniture shopping, use the tips in this booklet. They'll show you how to save money — and avoid disappointing mistakes.

(PS To all readers: If you would like a copy of this booklet, just drop me a postcard with your name and address.)

MAJOR MOVE TO ATTACK RESPIRATORY DISEASES

A major move to attack both the causes and effects of respiratory diseases, through the 47 volunteer associations in Ontario whose activities are co-ordinated by the Ontario Tuberculosis and Respiratory Disease Association, was announced today.

The activities of two hundred members of the Ontario Thoracic Society, which is the advisory arm of the OTRDA are to be co-ordinated by a full time Executive Secretary. Dr. Cameron Gray, Associate Professor, Department of Medicine, University of Toronto, has been named to the post.

Dr. Gray's appointment was announced today by Kenneth Clarke, President of the Ontario Tuberculosis and Respiratory Disease Association.

"This appointment is an important factor in a major reorganization that is being undertaken by the OTRDA. Our objective is to sustain control over infectious Tuberculosis and, at the same time, broaden the involvement of both medical and lay volunteers in other serious respiratory disease. We are particularly concerned with Emphysema, Chronic Bronchitis and asthma. In addition, the association will direct its interest to cigarette smoking which is known to contribute to respiratory problems," Mr. Kenneth Clarke said.

Dr. Gray graduated in medicine in 1939 and served in the Royal Canadian Army Medical Corps from 1941 to 1945. He obtained his FRCP (C) in 1946 and his FACC in 1960. Since 1963 he has been Associate Professor in medicine at the University of Toronto, a staff member of Toronto General Hospital and in private medical practice as a consultant.

THE GOOD EGG

This recipe, a favorite of our forefathers, could be just the change your present-day menu needs. Home economists, from Macdonald Institute, University of Guelph, suggest serving this dish for a light luncheon.

SHIRRED EGGS

Butter a remekin or a small custard cup. Put in a layer of fine buttered crumbs. Break an egg into a saucer; slip into the custard cup. Sprinkle with salt and pepper and cover with buttered bread crumbs. Place in a shallow pan of hot water; cook in a moderate oven until white is firm.

ACCIDENT ON MAIN STREET

A car driven by Miles Gartshore, 17 of Minden, was in an accident on the main street of Minden, last Wednesday at 6:30 a.m. Damage was estimated at $200.

Constable Tom Boyce was the investigating officer.
